Course Description

The course is a critical examination of the fundamental cultural assumptions of 3 major world civilizations the West, South Asia (India), and East Asia (China). The focus is on the historical foundations of these cultures as reflected in a variety of primary source materials produced during what philosopher Karl Jaspers has called the ‘axial’ period (i.e., the ancient world). A key question to be addressed in the course is how many of these assumptions are still operative today. Also to be considered is how they (i.e., the assumptions) might have been modified and what are their positive and negative qualities.

Additional Information

The weekly schedule of topics and readings can be found at the end of this outline or on D2L.
Students are responsible for reading and following all course and university policies discussed in this outline.

For information on the use of a statutory declaration, see the University Calendar: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html

Expectations for Writing

Department policy directs that all written assignments and, to a lesser extent, written exam responses be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization and proper documentation of research sources. For further information, please refer to the University of Calgary Calendar section on writing across the curriculum: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html

Grading & Department of Communication, Media and Film Grade Scale

The following table outlines the grade scale percentage equivalents used in the Department of Communication, Media and Film. Final grades are reported as letter grades. For components graded using percentages or numerical scores, those values will be used directly in calculating the final course grade, while for components graded using letter grades, the letter grades will be converted to the midpoint values listed in the final column of the table below in calculating the final course grade.

In this course, letter grades will be used for all assignments.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people’s words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there.

For information on citation and documentation styles (MLA, APA, Chicago, IEEE, etc.), visit the Student Success Centre resource links at https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/writing-support or the Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) Research and Citation Resources at https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/resources.html

These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed, or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.

To ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes & electronic versions of textbooks), all students are required to read the University of Calgary Policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright at https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/acceptable-use-material-protected-copyright-policy and the requirements of the Copyright Act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants, including surveys, interviews, or observations as part of your university studies, you are responsible for obtaining research ethics approval and for following university research ethics guidelines. In some cases, your instructors may apply for course-based research ethics approval for certain assignments, and in those cases, they must review and approve your research plans and supervise your research. Assignment Guide

Assignment #1
Due Date: Oct. 6, 2021
Length: 5 pages double-spaced
Weighting: 20%

Goal and Method:

Pick one of the texts from before Oct. 6th and clarify what you think is the fundamental cultural assumption it embodies. Please make an explicit statement of what that assumption is and show how relevant quotes from the text allow you to make that interpretation. Conclude by illustrating how that assumption may be evident today. If not, what cultural assumption may have replaced it and to what effect?

Assignment #2
Due Date: Nov. 5
Length: 7-10 pages double-spaced
Weighting: 30%

Goal and Method:

Taking texts from two different cultures (drawn from what was covered up to Nov. 5), compare and contrast the fundamental cultural assumptions within each text. Please make an explicit statement of each assumptions and show where in the text it appears. How do you think the assumptions make life in one culture better, worse, or the same than life in another culture? How are our lives in contemporary culture better, worse, or the same in comparison? Please give illustrations based on your own reading or life experience.

Assignment #3

Due: Date: Dec. 8, 2021

Length: 10-15 pages double-spaced

Weighting 35%

Goal and Method:

(a) to be done in group of up to 5 individuals

(b) summarize the course by integrating as many course readings as possible

(c) can be done via video, painting, drama, etc. or some combination thereof

(d) seek to answer a question of your own choosing or answer the question of what assumptions (from whatever culture) are still operative to-day and which assumptions are no longer operative

Participation Brief:

Due Date: Dec. 10, 2021

Length: approximately 1-2 pages double-spaced

Weighting: 15%

Goal and Method:

Give yourself a participation grade out of 15 based on the following criteria, upon which your brief reports:

(a) percentage of course material read

(b) classes and tutorial attended

(c) discussion of course material with others outside of class

(d) an honest assessment of what you learned and/or have gotten out of the course
