RHETORICAL COMMUNICATION
WINTER 2020
Tuesdays and Thursdays | 9:30-10:45 a.m.

Instructor: Crystal Chokshi
Office: SS 240
E-Mail: crystal.chokshi1@ucalgary.ca
Web Page: D2L (available through MyUofC portal)
Office Hours: Monday, 1-2 p.m.; Thursday, 11 a.m.-12 p.m.; or by appointment

Course Description
This course introduces students to the basic principles of rhetorical theory, criticism and practice. Examines rhetorical perspectives on elements of communication such as argumentation, persuasion, audience, and ethics. Students will apply rhetorical theory to the criticism of samples of public communication and will practice their rhetorical skills through in-class activities and assigned writing and oral presentations.

Objectives of the Course
By the end of the course, students should have developed the following:

• A familiarity with the historical roots of rhetorical theory and an understanding of the importance of rhetoric to Western culture
• An understanding of the principles and terminology of classical (and some contemporary) rhetorical theory
• Skill in using rhetorical principles to craft informative and persuasive texts and presentations for specific audiences. As part of invention, students should be able to locate relevant sources using U of C library online search tools
• Competence and confidence in crafting and delivering persuasive and/or informative presentations
• Competence in editing written work for style, correctness, and ethical citation of sources appropriate for particular rhetorical contexts
• Skill in using rhetorical concepts to analyze and critique arguments and texts and speeches drawn from contemporary media

Additional Information
Students are responsible for reading and following all course and university policies discussed in this outline.
Communication
Please note that the instructor requires one to two full business days (defined as Monday to Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.) to reply to emails. Email is not replied to on weekends.

Notes on Attendance and Absences
If you miss a day of class, it is your responsibility to make up the material by getting notes from a classmate. The instructor will not supply you with notes or a summary of what you missed. When possible, the instructor will upload to D2L material from lecture; but, this will not always happen. Please plan accordingly.

Please note that assignments will be deferred only in the case of documented illness, bereavement, or varsity team travel. Assignments will not be rescheduled due to travel and vacation plans, work obligations, or other scheduling conflicts.

Textbooks and Readings

The weekly schedule of topics and readings can be found on D2L. Please note that required readings should be read prior to the lecture for which they are assigned.

Policy on the use of Electronic Communication Devices
Laptops and tablets may be used in class for note-taking only. Mobile phones are not permitted. No audio or video recording is allowed in any class without the instructor’s explicit permission.

Assignments and Evaluation

<td>Writing prompts: On Jan. 16, 23, 30, and Feb. 6, students will have time in class to carry out four short writing assignments (approx. 250 words each) that may include critical reflections, audience analyses, narrowly-focused rhetorical analyses, stylistic imitations, or editing and revision tasks. These assignments do not have to be done in class (the prompts will be uploaded to D2L), but all four will be due at the end of class (i.e. 10:45 a.m.) on Feb. 6. These assignments should be submitted via D2L.</td>

<td>Peer review: In class on April 7, you will bring one or two paragraphs that you have drafted for your final essay. Peer(s) will review your work in class, helping you identify some opportunities for improvement before your essay is due. To see this 10%, you must 1) have prepared a paragraph or two in advance of class on April 7; 2) show up on April 7 with your work; 3) participate in reviewing your peer(s)'s work in class on April 7.</td>

<td>Essay: In your final essay, which will be 1,500 words in length, you will build on your presentation in order to write an op-ed or persuasive piece, imagining that you're writing for The Conversation Canada, The Walrus, The Globe and Mail or another magazine or website of your choice. Your essay should be accompanied by a short reflection (500 words) about the rhetorical elements and devices your essay employs. You must hand in your essay and reflection to your instructor in class (i.e. by 10:45 a.m.) on April 14. More detailed instructions about the essay will be provided in lecture before Reading Week.</td>

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: No

Note: You do not have to complete all the assignments and exams in order to receive a passing grade in this course. But, you must complete the presentation and the essay.

If you miss a required course component, please contact your instructor as soon as possible.

Submission of Assignments

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments and hand in your essays directly to your instructor or tutor. If you are unable to do so, please use the drop box in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox. Note: It is your responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment and to ensure that you submit the proper version (particularly in courses requiring electronic submission).

Be prepared to provide photo ID to pick up assignments in SS 320. Private information related to individual students is treated with the utmost regard by University of Calgary faculty. Student assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty, and personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. Please note that instructors may use audio or video
Policy for Late Assignments
For late assignments, one-third of a letter grade (A- becomes B+, B+ becomes B, etc.) will be subtracted from the assignment for each 24-hour period. After one calendar week, the grade will be an automatic zero (unless accompanied by appropriate documentation).

Student Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS); SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access. Students who require an accommodation based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Expectations for Writing
Department policy directs that all written assignments and, to a lesser extent, written exam responses be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization and proper documentation of research sources. For further information, please refer to the University of Calgary Calendar section on writing across the curriculum: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html

Grading & Department of Communication, Media and Film Grade Scale
The following table outlines the grade scale percentage equivalents used in the Department of Communication, Media and Film. Final grades are reported as letter grades. For components graded using percentages or numerical scores, those values will be used directly in calculating the final course grade, while for components graded using letter grades, the letter grades will be converted to the midpoint values listed in the final column of the table below in calculating the final course grade.

In this course, letter grades will be used for the essay, while raw percentage grades will be used for the writing prompts, midterm, presentation, critique, and peer review.

Column 5: These percentage equivalents will be used for calculating final grades unless an alternative method of final grade calculation is outlined above.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there.

For information on citation and documentation styles (MLA, APA, Chicago, IEEE, etc.), visit the Student Success Centre resource links at https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/writing-support or the Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) Research and Citation Resources at https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/resources.html

If you need help with your writing or have questions about citing sources, please consult your instructor or visit the Student Success Centre, 3rd floor, Taylor Family Digital Library. Instructor Intellectual Property & Copyright Legislation

Course materials created by the instructor (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Academic Misconduct
For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Research Ethics
Whenever you perform research with human participants, including surveys, interviews, or observations as part of your university studies, you are responsible for obtaining research ethics approval and for following university research ethics guidelines. In some cases, your instructors may apply for course-based research ethics approval for certain assignments, and in those cases, they must review and approve your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, please see https://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/arts-researchers/resources-researchers-and-instructors/ethics

Deferrals of Course Work and Requests for Reappraisal
For university regulations and procedures related to deferrals of exams and course work, requests for reappraisals, and other matters, please see the relevant sections in the University Calendar: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-regs.html

Student Support Services and Resources
Please visit https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/registration/course-outlines for information about student support services and resources, including Wellness and Mental Health Resources, Student Success programs and services, the Student Ombuds Office, the Student Union, and Safewalk.
