Course Description
The class offers a critical study of the changes experienced in journalism since the advent of new media, with a special emphasis on the transformations introduced by the popularization of social media platforms. Some of the topics explored are the emergence of networked and entrepreneurial journalism, algorithmic audiences, automated and ambient journalism, fake news, and the reformulation of traditional journalistic values such as objectivity and ethics.

Objectives of the Course
By the end of this course, students should be able to:
- identify the main transformations experienced by journalism as a discourse and a profession,
- critically assess contemporary discursive strategies of journalism scholars and professionals aimed at constructing journalism as a profession and scholarly discipline,
- analyze journalistic phenomena from a critical perspective,
- critically engage with the literature in the area of journalism studies,
- work effectively in groups.

The following is the list of mandatory readings for this class:

| 35%    | Group activities: in groups of max. 5 members, students will complete five problem solving activities that require the analysis of different aspects of journalistic discourse and phenomena in light of the critical studies discussed in class. The activities will be completed in class and handed in at the end of the day via dropbox submission. Students will have part of two lectures time to complete the activity.
Group activities are open book. The instructions will become available the day the assignment is introduced in class.
To complete the activity, students must be present in class. | Jan. 31, Feb 14, Mar. 6, 20 AND April 3, |
| 10%    | Discussion groups: This grade will be assessed based in each student’s documented participation in ten in-class group discussions. Students will form groups of up to 8 members to discuss and answer a question connected to the reading material scheduled for that day. To receive a discussion group grade, students must be present in class, access the question via D2L, collaborate with a group in answering a question from a list compiled by the instructor, and sign in their names next to the question answered as proof of participation. Each documented participation in a discussion group session is worth 1%. | Ongoing (see schedule below for more information) |
| 10%    | Group presentation: 10 minutes each- all group members must present. | TBD by groups |
In groups of four, students will plan and deliver an oral presentation that consists in the description and critical analysis of a journalistic text or phenomenon. The presentation should address the topic of the week and establish three connections between the case study presented and the mandatory reading assigned for that week. In addition, groups are responsible for introducing two questions for audience discussion. The presentations will receive a group mark. Further instructions will be posted on D2L during the first week of class. Dates available: Fridays from January 24 to April 3.

20% Take-home midterm exam: individual assignment- open book, take-home. The midterm will consist in the analysis of a case study in light of the theories studied in class from Week 1 to Week 5 (included). Further instructions will be posted on D2L on January 31st. Feb. 15 by 11:59 PM (D2L dropbox)

25% Take-home final exam: individual assignment- open book, take-home. The final exam will consist of two sections. The first part will require students to research and write a critical analysis of a phenomenon or discursive instance of contemporary journalism (approx.1000 words). A second part will consist in a series of 4-6 short answer questions about the mandatory readings discussed in class. Further instructions will be posted on D2L on March 27th. April 17 by 2PM (D2L dropbox)

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: No

Note: You do not need to complete all assignments and exams in order to receive a passing grade in the course.

Submission of Assignments

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments and upload them to the D2L dropbox assigned.

Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see http://www.ucalgary.ca/legalservices/foip/foip-hia

Note: It is the student’s responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment and to ensure that the proper version is submitted (particularly in courses requiring electronic submission). Including a version date in your file name may be useful.

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline will receive a 0.

The Day of Grace: One day of grace is available to all students to cover unforeseen problems that prevent them from meeting a deadline such as computer crashes, vehicle breakdowns, lack of printer ink or money, unexpected family obligations, etc. Students may use this day ONLY ONCE during the semester. Students using this day of grace must upload the assignment by 4:30 pm the next calendar day to avoid a late penalty, and write “grace” on their subject line. It should be noted that assignments handed in this manner may be returned 1-2 classes later than those submitted on the due date.
Student Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS); SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/. Students who require an accommodation based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Students seeking accommodation for transient illnesses (e.g., the flu) or another legitimate reason should contact their instructors. Whenever possible, students should provide supporting documentation to support their request; however, instructors may not require that a medical note be presented. For the policy on supporting documentation the use of a statutory declaration, see Section M.1 of the University Calendar: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html. Also see FAQs for Students: https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/registration/appeals/student-faq

Expectations for Writing
Department policy directs that all written assignments and, to a lesser extent, written exam responses be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization and proper documentation of research sources. For further information, please refer to the University of Calgary Calendar section on writing across the curriculum: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html

Grading & Department of Communication, Media and Film Grade Scale
In this course, final grades are reported as letter grades. All other assignments (group activities, discussion group work, group presentations, midterm and final exams) will receive a percentage grade.

The following chart outlines the grade scale percentage equivalents used in the Department of Communication, Media and Film. In calculating final grades in this course, letter grades will be converted to the midpoint of the percentage range, as shown in the final column of the table below.

 These percentage equivalents will be used for calculating final grades unless an alternative method of final grade calculation is outlined above.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people’s words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there.

For information on citation and documentation styles (MLA, APA, Chicago, IEEE, etc.), visit the Student Success Centre resource links at https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/writing-support or the Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) Research and Citation Resources at https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/resources.html

If you need help with your writing or have questions about citing sources, please consult your instructor or visit the Student Success Centre, 3rd floor, Taylor Family Digital Library. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.
All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Academic Misconduct
For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Research Ethics
Whenever you perform research with human participants, including surveys, interviews, or observations, as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/resources/ethics
