Course Description
In this course, students will critically examine a series of film cultures that expand beyond the canon of Hollywood and Western European cinema. We will explore regional and national cinemas from Africa, Asia, Latin America, India, and Eastern Europe, analyzing their historical contexts of production and formal conventions. The course will also open students onto broader global perspectives by mapping the ways in which national cinemas participate in transnational networks of production, circulation, and exhibition.

Rather than exploring any one national cinema in depth, our objective will be to consider particular national cinemas as sites to engage with the key themes, questions, and debates that constitute the discourse of world cinema: national allegory, the tension between the local and globalization, film festivals and transnational forms of branding, genre and authorship, the question of the “popular”, and the philosophical distinctions between the world, the earth, and the planet.

Objectives of the Course
Following the completion of this course, students should be able to:
1. Identify key debates within the scholarship on world cinema.
2. Demonstrate a more globally inclusive understanding of tendencies and movements across film history.
3. Make connections across various national cinemas through considering transnational questions of marketing and circulation.
4. Enhance their philosophical understanding of how cinema thinks the world.
5. Perform critical analyses and write well-crafted arguments about visual culture.

Textbooks and Readings
All assigned readings for the course will be uploaded to D2L.

Internet and electronic communication device information
Laptops should be used for note-taking purposes only. Cell phones should be turned off during screenings and lectures to avoid deductions from your participation grade.

Viewing Requirements
Students are required to attend all screenings. If you miss one, it is your responsibility to view the film(s) at the Media Library (3rd floor, TFDL) as soon as you are able. Certain titles (though not all) may be available to view online. These resources are not a substitute for the scheduled screenings, but may prove helpful for review purposes.

Participation (10%)
Since this class involves both challenging films and ideas, attendance, class participation, and completion of the readings are absolutely necessary. Lecture content will usually move beyond the week’s assigned readings, so students will need to have read the required materials by the Thursday lecture in order for the class experience to remain meaningful.

Cinema Politica Screening (5%)
On the last Wednesday of every month, Cinema Politica will hold a screening in the Gallery Hall of the Taylor Family Digital Library. Students are required to attend one of these screenings throughout the course of the term, and will receive an automatic grade of 5% for their attendance.

Short Essay (25%)
Students will submit a short research essay on October 5 (5 pages long), in which they find and analyze a film related to one of the film movements or theoretical problems covered in class. For example, students may choose either a film by an auteur or belonging to a genre discussed in lecture. Conversely, they may choose a film that illuminates one of the theoretical problems relevant to world cinema, such as national allegory. Students will be required to both find one academic source on their chosen film and refer to one of the assigned readings of their chosen week. Ultimately, the goal of this assignment is to give students a deeper understanding of a national film context and its implications for world cinema.

Film Review (20%)
Film criticism is one of the main venues through which world cinema reaches a transnational audience. Following examples provided in class, students will write a three-page review of one of the films on the course outline, due November 7. They will use the course readings and lectures as their “press kit”, and address elements of form, theme, and historical context in an accessible prose style that is suitable for a non-specialized readership.

Final Essay (40%)
An assignment sheet on the final paper will be given out on November 7. The essay will be 8 pages, double-spaced, and is due on December 5 at the beginning of class.

*Note: Each written assignment will be accompanied by a rubric and instruction sheet on D2L

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: NO

All assignments and exams must be completed or a course grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Please include your name, ID number, and the instructor’s name on all assignments, and be prepared to provide picture ID to pick up assignments or look at marked final exams in SS 320. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see http://www.ucalgary.ca/legalservices/foip/foip-hia

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment and to ensure that the proper version is submitted (particularly in courses requiring electronic submission). Including a version date in your file name may be useful.

Policy for Late Assignments
Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late.

Student Accommodations
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS); SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/. Students who require an accommodation based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Students seeking accommodation for transient illnesses (e.g., the flu) or another legitimate reason should contact their instructors. Whenever possible, students should provide supporting documentation to support their request; however, instructors may not require that a medical note be presented. For the policy on supporting documentation the use of a statutory declaration, see Section M.1 of the University Calendar: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html. Also see FAQs for Students: https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/registration/appeals/student-faq

Expectations for Writing
Department policy directs that all written assignments and, to a lesser extent, written exam responses be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization and proper documentation of research sources. For further information, please refer to the University of Calgary Calendar section on writing across the curriculum: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html

Grading & Department of Communication, Media and Film Grade Scale
Final grades are reported as letter grades. In this course, letter grades will be used for all assignments. The following chart outlines the grade scale percentage equivalents used in the Department of Communication, Media and Film. In calculating final grades in this course, letter grades will be converted to the midpoint of the percentage range, as shown in the final column of the table below.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people’s words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there.

For information on citation and documentation styles (MLA, APA, Chicago, IEEE, etc.), visit the Student Success Centre resource links at https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/writing-support or the Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL) Research and Citation Resources at https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/resources.html

If you need help with your writing or have questions about citing sources, please consult your instructor or visit the Student Success Centre, 3rd floor, Taylor Family Digital Library. Instructor Intellectual Property & Copyright Legislation

Course materials created by the instructor (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.
All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Academic Misconduct
For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Research Ethics
Whenever you perform research with human participants, including surveys, interviews, or observations as part of your university studies, you are responsible for obtaining research ethics approval and for following university research ethics guidelines. In some cases, your instructors may apply for course-based research ethics approval for certain assignments, and in those cases, they must review and approve your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, please see https://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/arts-researchers/resources-researchers-and-instructors/ethics

Deferrals of Course Work and Requests for Reappraisal
For university regulations and procedures related to deferrals of exams and course work, requests for reappraisals, and other matters, please see the relevant sections in the University Calendar: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/academic-regs.html
